

Influenza

Strophe: I had a life full of rush - and I tried to do my best my job was nearly killing me - and my wife did the rest I made my mind up, one fine day - and I left it all behind threw all my stuff aboard - for a life of another kind

Refrain: Why the hell does it snow on Christmas - I got an influenza where the hell did I get this cold from - I hate to drink my honey milk

Strophe: I took a boat to anywhere - till I ended up this place sunshine and banana trees - put a smile on my face the island I had chosen - was a place of peace and rest the quietness and silence - suite my needs the best

Middle

Refrain (wie 1. Refrain, a capella)

Strophe: no work and no bad vibes - sun and water everyday it's so good, it turned out boring - no excitement in any way

Refrain: Where the hell is snow on Christmas - I'm missing influenza where the hell do I get my cold from - I'd like to drink my hone milk

Strophe: Every day lay on the beach - I don't know what to do I'm missing all the hustle - and nasty weather, too
